Biography

Jeff Michaels is a self-taught musician in the principles of piano, drums, and guitar whose heroes and influences include Billy Joel and Bruce Springsteen. Over the course of the last decade, Jeff Michaels has released six albums of his unique piano rock featuring members of the Counting Crows, Train, and the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra. His songs have been placed on MTV and Vh1 television shows, as well as the JamParty video game. His latest album, LOST IN BOSTON, has received critical acclaim and steady rotation in various terrestrial and internet radio stations, and can be found on all major music streaming and downloading sites. After the tragic Boston Marathon Bombing that took place on April 15, 2013, Jeff recorded the song Boston Strong. All proceeds from track sales were donated to The One Fund, and he received a personal thank you from Massachusetts Governor Deval Patrick for his work.
